A.2. Read the following passage and answer the following questions given below.

On the 16th of June 1730 we discovered land. Our captain sent a dozen men with vessels for water, if any could be found. When we came to land we saw no river or spring nor any inhabitants. I went on to explore. The country was barren and rocky. I turned back to join crew, only to see them getting into the boat and rowing for life to get to the ship.

Before I could reach them I observed a huge creature walking after them in the sea as fast as he could. The water of the ocean reached only till his knees! However, the monster was unable to overtake the speeding boat. I turned back quickly and climbed up a steep hill with fields of barley on either side and the corn rising up to forty feet. There was a fence to pass from one field to the other.

Aman and his mother lived in a small village. They were very poor. To help her, Aman often collected wood from the forest. He also cut down small trees. One morning, a bird flew down from a tree and asked him not cut it down. The bird explained that its home was in the tree. Aman left the tree alone. The bird was happy. It asked Aman to come back the next day before the sun came up, and to bring along an empty bag.

Early the next day, Aman went to the tree and waited for the bird. The bird soon appeared. It asked Aman to hold on to its tail. It then flew up, and Aman followed it into the sky. They went to a faraway valley.

Aman saw the valley filled with gold. He picked up some pieces of gold and put them into his bag. The bird told Aman that they must leave the valley before the sun came up. HANDWRITING (5 Marks)

Read the given paragraph carefully and copy in neat handwriting.

Some mice lived in a house in which there was also a large, fat cat. The mice were afraid of her. All the mice met together to talk over the matter. A young mouse said, 'Let us hang a bell round the cat's neck. Then when she walks, the bell will ring and warn us to run away.' All felt it was a good plan. Then a wise old mouse said, 'That's a good plan, but who will hang the bell round the cat's neck?' All the mice were silent. No one was brave enough for such a difficult task.
