31. Read the following passage.

Aman and his mother lived in a small village. They were very poor. To help her, Aman often collected wood from the forest. He also cut down small trees. One morning, a bird flew down from a tree and asked him not cut it down. The bird explained that its home was in the tree. Aman left the tree alone. The bird was happy. It asked Aman to come back the next day before the sun came up, and to bring along an empty bag.

Early the next day, Aman went to the tree and waited for the bird. The bird soon appeared. It asked Aman to hold on to its tail. It then flew up, and Aman followed it into the sky. They went to a faraway valley.

Aman saw the valley filled with gold. He picked up some pieces of gold and put them into his bag. The bird told Aman that they must leave the valley before the sun came up. Aman quickly filled his bag. And then the bird and he flew back to the forest, and Aman went home.

He now had lots of money for himself and his mother.

I lay in sorrow, in deep distress;

My sorrow passed – I paid him back

Then stood erect and spoke my thanks
And blessed his charity.

I lay in wish, and grief and pain;
A poor man passed my way,
He bound my head, he gave me bread,
He watched me night and day.
